

Thomas Blackstock

Associate

Thomas defends businesses of any size on a full range of toxic torts matters including exposure to asbestos, silica, talc and other industrial, retail, manufacturing, and consumer products.

Contact

TBlackstock@hkmlawgroup.com

651-251-8326

More About Thomas

From the outset, Thomas partners with his clients to develop a thorough understanding of their goals and objectives to create the most effective legal strategy. Thomas' practice involves complex medical and scientific evidence that is the key factor in the litigation process. From case evaluation through litigation and appeal, clients rely on Thomas for clear and open communication and a deep understanding of the underlying subject matter.

Thomas received his J.D. from the University of Notre Dame. Before joining Haws-KM, Thomas owned a litigation support business that specialized in providing law firms and insurance companies with sophisticated legal research, writing, and analysis.

He earned his B.A., magna cum laude, from Gustavus Adolphus College in Saint Peter, Minn. While in college, Thomas studied abroad at the University of St. Andrews in Scotland.

Practice Areas

- Insurance Related Litigation
- Toxic Torts
- Transportation

Licenses

- State of Minnesota

Education

- J.D., cum laude, University of Notre Dame Law School
- B.A., magna cum laude, Gustavus Adolphus College, Philosophy and English

Outside of the Office

Thomas loves to get outdoors with his wife and two energetic children. He is an enthusiastic swimmer, skier, and cyclist, and spends as much time as possible on the Minneapolis lakes and trails.